PROJECTS

Tenant.com — An online house rental platform

As a major project for my Bachelor's Degree last semester, I came up with this idea to build a platform where owners can list their property(s) on rent and tenants will be able to view those properties and take further actions, there won't be any third party involved. To build this whole system we used ASP.NET as a frontend and C#, MS Access Database for the backend.

AppleStop — Retail store for Apple Products
